

Workshop

Refugee Shocks: What the Sudden Arrival of Many Refugees Does to Others

Friday, 31 May 2024

University of Neuchâtel, Av. du Premier Mars 26, Room D63

To attend the workshop please register here before Monday 20 May 2024

Friday, 31 May 2024 | Program Details

8:40 - 9:00 Welcome coffee

9:00 – 10:30 Labour Market

The Integration of Migrants in the German Labor Market: Evidence over 50

Jan Stuhler (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid)

Immigration, Unemployment and Voting Behaviour: Evidence From the 1990s
Balkan Refugee Crisis

Marco Pecoraro (University of Neuchâtel)

Path2Work: Online Job Platform to Improve Refugees' Job Search

Mirjam Bächli (University of Lausanne)

10:30 - 11:00 Coffee break

11:00 – 12:30 Attitudes

The Effects of Asylum Seekers on Political Outcomes

Arnau Valladares-Esteban (University of St. Gallen)

Migrants' Visibility and Their Perceptions of Discrimination. The Case of Germany

Claudia Diehl (University of Konstanz)

The Effects of Civil War and Forced Migration on Intimate Partner Violence
Among Syrian Refugee Women in Jordan

Murat Güray Kırdar (Boğaziçi University)

12:30 - 13:45 Lunch break

13:45 – 15:15 Wellbeing

Social Assistance and Refugee Crime

Michaela Slotwinski (University of Zürich)

How Mastery (Doesn't) Change in Reaction to External (Non-Personalized) Events
– Evidence From a Refugee Shock

Natalia Malancu (University of Neuchâtel)

Refugees and the Education Outcomes of Incumbent Students: Evidence From Switzerland

Siwar Khelifa (University of Neuchâtel)

15:30 - 16:30 Closing and apéro

To attend the workshop please register at this link before Monday 20 May 2024 and for any further information contact Didier Ruedin (didier.ruedin@unine.ch).